

Resources

1. ACC Preparedness Page: The most up-to-date source of information specially related to ACC HQ's events and programs is at the ACC Coronavirus Update Center (<https://www.acc.com/covid-preparedness>). Updates are posted here about upcoming events, cancellations, as well as links from public health authorities on safe travel tips and advisories.
2. COVID-19 Resource Center: The ACC resource library contains a curated and continuously updated selection of COVID-19 resources at <https://www.acc.com/covid-resources>. The page features recent webcasts, legal resources, and the ACC COVID-19 online forum to discuss issues with other in-house lawyers. The content treats issues specific to in-house counsel and to the general public. Please refer members to this page as well.
3. Health and Wellness Resources: ACC's Wellness Initiative provides suggested programs (both online and in person) and resources for the in-house legal community, regardless of department size, to support the needs of the whole person, including those who may be experiencing impairment. The vision for the Wellness Initiative is to offer engaging and substantive opportunities that promote education, support and solutions to improve the legal practice and lives of corporate counsel.
4. Career Resources and Job Postings: Direct members to ACC's Career Page for the latest job opportunities and career development resources. Also, current members who may temporarily lose the title of in-house counsel can apply for an in-transition membership (free for the first year), to maintain their ACC membership benefits. They can download the application and submit the form to membership@acc.com
